organize

11th Annual Spring Scientific Symposium in Anaesthesiology and Intensive Care

Friday, April 25th – Sunday, April 27th 2025

Constantinus Palace Hotel by Tami Residence Niš, Serbia

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

Dear friends,

Our traditional Spring Symposium in Anesthesiology and Intensive Care over these fifteen years has been established on the map of the most important scientific events in this part of Europe. This spring, one more time, Niš will be a second name for the top scientific event and pleasant networking and above all a place of friendship and tradition. Back in 2009, we started this exciting journey from a local thematic meeting to today's important scientific event. After fifteen years, we are proud on the fact that we host a top international scientific meeting that gathers more than a thousand participants from Serbia and the region and a traditionally impressive group of international, recognized and prominent speakers. I sincerely hope that this April, traditional breathtaking charm of Niš, warm emotions of the south and our sincere and openhearted hospitality will convince you to visit our city once again and participate in the Spring Symposium. I invite you again to be a part of our story that has been going on for 15 years, but also a part of an unforgettable emotion that has been retold for years. Join us in Niš from 25th till 27th April and don't miss the top scientific content and unforgettable moments. We are waiting for you.
